to remain a place for people to gather, to visit, to pray to be silent and to belong.

For more than 800 years, Cartmel Priory, has stood as a beacon offering a place of welcome and hospitality; a home for worship and prayer; a place of pilgrimage; and a place where people meet, celebrate, grieve, reflect and find peace.

Keeping the historic and nationally important Priory open and cared for is a significant commitment. Last year, Priory expenses were in excess of £4,300 per week - more than £223,000 a year. This is only to stand still!
